Parent/Guardian/Carer Consultation meeting Tuesday 7th March 5pm

The Dioceses of Shrewsbury have shared their Trustees' policy that all schools in the Diocese will move into one of their three geographically based MATS. This has been communicated through face-to-face meetings with both Headteacher's and Governing boards.

EPCHS is geographically based in the Cheshire MAT, Our Lady Help of Christians. The Governors would like to invite parents and guardians to a consultation meeting on Thursday 7th March at 5 pm. This is the link to get a ticket for the event.

SERGEI PROKOFIEV'S PETER & THE WOLF

Orchestra: Chester Philharmonic Orchestra
Narrators: Patrick Horsefield and Blake Disley.

Written with young ears in mind, Sergei Prokofiev's classic Peter & the Wolf is as charming and entertaining as ever.

How many millions of young (and not so young) people have enjoyed Sergei Prokofiev's magical musical tale of Peter, a young boy, who sets out into the deep forest to catch a wolf?

Peter, his grandfather and their animal friends are brought to life by their own instrument. Peter's bird-friend flits with the flute while his companion duck waddles along to the oboe. Lively strings hum with Peter's cheerful energy while horns hint at the shadowy wolf at his heel. Then there's Grandpa on the bassoon, kettle-drum hunters and even a slinking clarinet cat. Written with young ears in mind, Prokofiev's classic is as charming and entertaining as ever. Jean-Pascal Beintus' Wolf Tracks is a retelling of the story for contemporary times – Peter, now an old man, recognizes both the beauty of nature and of wild wolves as part of a splendid world. The music is lyrical, bright and enchanting, set against a superbly written story by Walt Kraemer. Fascinating and inspiring, it's not surprising that Wolf Tracks has been recorded by Obama, Gorbechov, Clinton and even Antrio Banderas and Sophia Loren.

Event: Saturday 1st July at 7.30pm
